

Information on hook based forklift attachments

A hook based forklift attachment can convert an regular forklift into a tow truck. The hook based forklift attachment enables the carriage of trailers and other portable equipment. Steel safety pins are generally used to slide the attachment into the forks of the forklift. The attachment is usually powder coated with a blue paint finish. The attachment also comes with options of lifting hooks, tow balls and pintle hook.